Cornishman Has About Made Up His Mind to Accept the Big Californian's Chal-lenge—Anson on a Bluffing Tour

Robert Fitzsimmons will fight again!
This was the statement made to THE SUN man yesterday by a person who stands very close to the Cornishman. When Champion James J. Jeffries arrives in town and hurle a challenge at Fitzeimmons the lanky pugilist is expected to come out of his retirement and make a match. Fitzsimmons has been training quietly for several weeks, and has made the remark more than once that he is the only man in the world who has a chance to tive of one of the boxing clubs in Cali-fornia has been talking with Fitz for some time past with the idea of inducing him to fight, and last night it was common to fight, and last hight twas common talk among a select coterie of sporting men that Jeffries's challenge would be accepted. The argument set forth in favor of a fight between Jeffries and Fitzsimmons is the big gate that it would undoubtedly draw. Fitz can insist on an even division of the purse or the gross receipts and make a pot of money, win or lose. He will also have an excellent oppor-tunity of proving to the sporting world that he was not in proper shape and was, perhaps, "doped," as he insists, when the perhaps, "doped," as he insists, when the present champion knocked him out at Coney Island more than two years ago.

Fitzsimmons to-day believes that he can defeat Jeffries in signal fashion. It was only a year ago last summer that the Cornishman trained himself into superb condition and knocked out both Ruhlin and Sharkey inside of two weeks. Then he went after a match with Jeffries, whose manager had been talking fight. Jeffries, when it came right down to cases, would not sign articles. Fitz proposed to knock would bet $10,000 on the side. But again the champion refused to make such a match on the ground that he did not have sufficient time to get himself fit. Then Fitz an-At Hartford last Thanksgiving Day, just before the McGovern-Corbett battle, Robert told the crowd that he hoped he would never fight again, but it is known that the Cornishman has all along been prepared to come to the scratch in case there should be a popular demand for another meeting between him and the only heavy-weight who has knocked him out. "The American public," said Fitzsimmons to The Sun man recently, "regard me as the greatest fighter in the world. I can beat Jeffries as sure as you are alive. If I had been myself down at Coney Island doubt. As I have been informed, I put up the poorest kind of a fight on that occasion. They tell me that I repeatedly walked into punishment, swung wildly for the head and let the body alone. If that is the war between Preedman and spaining been declared that Anson came here from Chicago, explaining that he had been sent for by the New York magnate. He hing around town for several days, gave out a statement that he had bought his stock in the Chicago Club instead of receiving it in the Chicago Club instead of receiving it as a gift and then went away. Now a story leaks out that Anson has been engaged by the Freedman combination to see what he can do to organize ball clubs in certain cities where Spaiding has a tight grip. Two years ago Anson was mixed up in the defunct American Association scheme and declared with much bluster that he had Joseph Leiter and other millionaires together with a courie of street railroads.

vesterday. Though Farrell insists that he is the cole owner, it was reasserted that he is acting in conjunction with W. S. Devery, John B. Sexton, P. H. McCarren and possibly Richard Croker. T. D. Sullivan said yesterday that he was not interested in the Yonkers track at all and his friends gave as a reason that he is at present not on intimate terms with either Farrell or Devery. Farrell consented to talk some during the day and said in part: I will not apply out if I have placed the track in such condition that it cannot fail to meet the approval of the Jockey Club. I will build a chute and new stables and will make a number of other necessary improvements. A spur track will be built from Mount Vernon and when everything is ready, I feel sure that the Jockey Club will treat me fairly.

The Tammany men, who seem determined to get into the racing game, say that when the proper time comes they do not see how the Jockey Club can refuse to recognize them. They declare that they will comply with all the requirements of the Percy-Gray Racing law, especially the following section:

Any number of men not less than five may become a corporation for the purpose of raising, breeding and improving the breed of horses, with all the general powers of corporations created under the laws of this State.

Any corporation formed under the provisions of this act, if so claimed in its certificate of organization and if it shall comply with all the provisions of section 4, shall have its power and right to hold one or more trotting or running race meetings in each year, and to hold, maintain and conduct trotting and running race meetings in each year, and to hold, maintain and conduct trotting and running race meetings as such trotting and running race meetings in each year, and to hold, maintain and conduct trotting and running race meetings the period extending from April 15 to Nov. 15 in each year nor upon any racecourse for more than forty days within said period.

Such certificate must be approved in the manner hereinafter spe become a part of the charter of this corporation.

It was not until last season that Farrell went into racing on a large scale. He was represented by the noted three-year-olds Blues ard Bonnibert, the former winning many rich prizes; then his colors were carried by Dolando, De Reszke, Five Nations, The Musketeer and other good horses who were frequently in the money. His atable was trained by Tom Welsh and the running of his horses was to outward appearances free from scandal. He developed into a heavy bettor, on several occasions sending commissions into the ring that hit the layers hard.

Capt. Kernan, of the Harvard football team, was in the city this week discussing the outlook for next season with Harvard men here. The Harvard folks are very anxious to get Bill Reid to coach the eleven again in 1902, but with small hope of success. Reid, it is reported, is to be married probably next spring and also expects to go to Oxford next year for a year's course at the English university. After that he will join his father who is principal of the Belmont School in California. Kernan, it is learned, will play baseball at Harvard next spring, going behind the bat, where he will come in very handy.

If that is what I did, no further explanation of my defeat is necessary, except to say that I was drugged in my corner. I got into the rig fit, but after the first round they did something to me that settled my chances. So far no fighter has been able to solve Jeffries's defence well enough to stop him. THE CINCINNATI BALL CLUB. Brush Said to Be Frozen Out and Franchise

Offered to Judge Ferris. CINGINNATI, Dec. 27 .- Judge Howard Ferris of the Probate Court of this city admitted to-day that A. G. Spalding. President of the National League, had offered to him the Cincinnati frachise provided he could secure grounds He said: "Spalding, through his agent, informed me that John T. Brush had been frozen out and that he would like a company of local capitalists to have the club. The only stipulation is that suitable grounds company of local capitalists to have the caus.

The only stipulation is that suitable grounds be secured.

"To that end I have opened negotiations with John T Brush for his stand and grounds and hope to be successful.

"President Ban Johnson of the American League not only offered to subscribe $5,000 worth of stock, but piedges his assistance in securing players. There will be no trouble to secure capital and I have every reason to believe that the plans will be successful, as there is no other bidder to whom Brush can sell his property."

Judge Ferris said that he would not only try to secure the grounds and grand stand, but also the assets which would include the contracts with players. The company will also offer to assume the liabilities of the club. Mr Spalding sent the following telegram here to-day in this connection in answer to a telegram from a local paper:

Aiken, S. C., Dec. 27.—When vacancies actually occur in the National League I will place any application from local capitalists that may come to me from desirable cities before the proper League authorities.

The cause of all the trouble was the jostling of Bristol out of the course by Divertisement, just as the guide flag was reached after the fifth jump was taken. Penn and McHugh, the riders of Bristol and Divertisement, were called into the stand and closely questioned by the stewards and both told the same story, stating that the jostling could not have been averted and it was unintentional. The stewards and it was unintentional. The stewards took their word and no official ruling was handed down on the race. The majority of those who bet on Divertisement hissed when the numbers were hung out. The race was won by Dagmar in a hard drive by a length from Bristol, who secured the place by ten lengths from Divertisement. Harve B. threw his rider.
